

Abstract

I will briefly describe how weak lensing of CMB results in generation of B-modes of CMB polarisation and demonstrate how this phenomena could be used to place constraints on the SGWB.